TANK FIRE MAY COST $300,000

Rain of Ink Follows Ignition By Lightning

TANK BOILS OVER

Crude Blaze at El Vista Still Raging

With thousands of gallons of crude oil on fire, Port Arthur had at its back door a pocket sized edition of the recent Mount Etna eruption.

Today the city has all the ingredients for a world convention of secretaries.

The gutters were rivers of ink and heavy rains brought more.

At the Nat., 207,000 gallons of water in the pool was so black it could be used in a pen.

Cisterns Filled

Hundreds of rainwater cisterns were filled with the fluid.

The jet liquid was the result of rain washing the atmosphere of billions of particles of carbon caused by destruction of a Gulf Production company's 200,000 barrel capacity earthen tank by lightning near El Vista at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

No official estimate of the loss, which it is believed will be complete, had been made today, but it is understood that it will be in excess of $200,000.

Tank Boils Over

At 8:45 o'clock this morning the huge earthen tank boiled over, cascading hundreds of gallons over its edge. The fiery stream spread to ditches and some half dozen smaller fires were burning.

Shortly after the bolt struck last night, spouting a tower of fire high in the sky, several hundred people in automobiles congregated near the spectacle.

And the tank boiled over then, workers say, frantically would have followed since the suggested line of cars could not have turned around.

Big gangs are at work in a heroic attempt to prevent spread of the flames.

Fills Upper Air

Clouds were saturated with dense black smoke last night and today, creating a pall over a large district.

Rising hundreds of feet into the sky, the smoke from the flaming crude oil filled the atmosphere today. The glare last night could be seen for miles.

Belching flames, gas and smoke, the oil volcano was burning with unabated fury this afternoon, intermittent bursts of flame sending fire and billowing billows of smoke high in the sky, where it spread like an enormous fan and mingled with clouds, in turn to be washed to earth as carbon.

NEDERLAND IS BANNER WINNER

Has Largest Percentage At Echo Meeting

Eighty Epworth Leagues, 38 from the First M. E. Church, South, and 22 from the First Methodist Episcopal church, attended at the Jefferson County Epworth League echo meeting at the First Methodist church in Beaumont last night. Over three hundred Leagues from the societies included in the Jefferson county union were in attendance.

The echo meeting was held for the purpose of giving the delegates, who attended the summer assembly at Alexander College at Jacksonville, an opportunity of telling the other Leagues what was done at the assembly.

J. B. Akire, president of the county union, presided, and interesting talks were given by Vicary Farrington on the Methodist armor, and Guy Daniels on the missionary work conducted in Japan. Miss Martha Brecken spoke on social service; Mrs. Harry McClelland told of the duties of the secretary; and Miss Margaret Latimer of the choir, told of the Intermediate League. An inspirational address was given by Rev. J. W. Mills.

Nederland was awarded the banner for the largest per cent of members present; and the Beaumont stunt, which was put on at Jacksonville, was reproduced last evening. At the close of the business session refreshments were served and league songs and yells were given.

Heavy Rain Delays Foundation Operation

With foundation partly excavated, rain today held up operations preliminary to the construction by Capt. W. C. Tyrell of a two-story brick structure to adjoin John R. Adams and company on Fifth street between Austin and Fort Worth avenues.

The site for the $25,000 structure, which will be the new home of the Jones-O'Neal Furniture company, was brought to grade with dirt from parking excavations in the same block.

Adjacent to the new structure will be Weller's department store, work on which, it was understood today, will be started as soon as the Tyrell structure has been completed.

I. W. W. LETTER REACHES LOGAN

May Be Turned Over to Federal Officers

THREAT CONSTRUED

Sequel to Alleged Flogging of Two Organizers

John Shuskie over his signature in a letter received today officially paid his compliment to Port Arthur officials.

Shuskie is secretary of the Marine Transport Workers International Union, No. 510, Industrial Workers of the World.

In his communication, addressed "Honorable Pink Logan, mayor of Port Arthur, Texas," the I. W. W. official says "we can, if compelled to, issue a call to our membership and some 20,000 marine workers will pay you city a visit within a few weeks."

Sequel to Floggings

The letter is the latest sequel to the alleged kidnapping and flogging of John Holland and James Murray recently near Port Arthur. Holland, several days later was reported undergoing treatment for his injuries in a Galveston hospital.

Today it was intimated at the office of Mayor Logan that the letter will be turned over to federal authorities of Galveston, construing its contents, they said, to be of a threatening nature.

The letter said:

"Other men have tried to interfere with our constitutional free speech and assembly but have failed. The city officials who tried it have retired from public life in shame. Several have committed suicide. Their cities have been burdened with heavy debt because of their foolish actions."

"If you wish to interfere with our rights and treat our members brutally, we can—compelled to—issue a call to our membership, and some 20,000 marine workers will pay you city a visit within a few weeks. We have no desire to bankrupt your city by making such a call, but it is the only way we know to protect our rights. We can flood your city with our members. Do you want us to do this? Or are you going to fulfill your oath of office and leave our members alone?"

Warden Westbrook placed a guard over her to prevent future suicide attempts. She is under care of a physician.

The Nitti-Crudelle woman and Frank Crudelle, her present husband, were convicted of the "hunger murder" of her first husband and both sentenced to hang.

VOICE ON PHONE DUE TO MAJOR THOUGHT DEAD IN BATTLE

HOUSTON, Texas, July 11.—Search was being made here today for Major Henry Whipple of San Antonio, formerly an officer in the 11th infantry, who was reported killed during the World War but thought to be living here, his mind blanked as a result of his war experiences.

According to Oscar Whipple, brother of the missing officer, his mother received a long distance telephone call from a Mrs. Taylor at Houston who said she was a friend of Major Whipple. The major had asked her to call his mother, she said, at a point in the conversation the connection was broke off and the mother heard no more concerning her son.

The government reported Major Whipple wounded in one of the battles just prior to the signing of the armistice. Several weeks later he was reported dead, but parents of the officer could obtain nothing definite on his death. After four years of attempts to learn the details of their

WEEKLY SAILING START THURSDAY

First Ship on New Schedule Due Here July 19

Port Arthur has proved herself a profitable port for shipping business and for a terminal of the Transmarine corporation.

This fact is evidenced with the announced inauguration tomorrow of a weekly shipping and sailing of vessels from Port Newark, N. J., to Port Arthur. The announced change in schedule of the Transmarine Corporation was contained in a letter from Manager Board to Traffic Manager Frank Parks of the Chamber of Commerce.

The first vessel under the changed schedule will leave Port Newark tomorrow, the ship leaving at that time stopping at Pensacola, Fla., and coming thence to this port arriving here on the 25th of July. On alternate Thursdays, vessels will sail from Port Newark to Port Arthur direct without making any stops, while on the other Thursdays, the vessels leaving this port will stop at Pensacola.

SALT WATER NOT FIT FOR DRINKING, REPORTS

Port Arthur's city water is "objectionable."

While it has no gas formers, and is rated as "soft" by a bacteriological standpoint, it has a large amount of salt, estimated at possibly half a teaspoonful to every quart, and is not fit for drinking purposes.

That is the information conveyed in Dr. Rod's monthly health report made to the city commission this morning.

The water report shows that the change and Bernhard water are "potable drinking water" with no gas formers.

WITCHCRAFT IN INDIAN'S DEATH

Redmen Put Blame for Boy's Illness on '90-Year-Old

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 11.—From the mountains fastness of Pushmataha county, where the trail of progress is slow, comes a story to the Indian agency recently, rivaling the legends of the state's aborigines.

David Houston, 90-year-old full-blood Choctaw Indian, was killed because those of his blood believed he was guilty of witchcraft, according to weight of evidence.

Houston, a recluse, was owner of 320 acres of land. Johnnie Hobson, 20, full-blood, was apparently suffering from rheumatism. His joints stiffened and red spots appeared on his feet.

Johnnie had been shot by a "witch-hall," the medicine men declared, pointing to the red spots on either foot. "In three days time," they warned, "the witch will send a bird or an animal. The bird or animal will report back to the witch the condition of the boy. Kill that bird or animal."

For three days the Indians watched upon the third day a bird alighted upon the roof of the Hobson home. The bullets missed their mark and the bird escaped. It was reported to have flown toward Houston's home.

The next night Houston, hearing a noise, stepped from his door to investigate and fell dead under a hail of buckshot.

Five persons were arrested, but later released because of insufficient evidence.

Agency officials are authority for the statement that Houston began a speedy recovery immediately following Houston's death.

Seeing that each student visited the zoo for a glimpse of the cow and calf is one of the duties of Detroit's school teachers.

BLONDES IN U. S. FACE EXTINCTION

Optometrist Says the Ultra-Violet Rays 'Fatal'

CHICAGO, July 11.—The blonde, with the "large, baby-blue eyes," is going the way of the American buffalo. Dr. Harry C. Paul, optometrist, declares.

Soon she will be a rarity in the United States, if she does not wear glasses that screen out the destructive ultra-violet and infra-red rays of sunlight, he said.

It is because of the intense light in this latitude, Paul points out, that the retina is screening out destructive light rays, and the blonde, with not enough pigment for her intense light, suffers accordingly.

The blonde, Dr. Paul pointed out, comes from northern Europe, where the light is much softer than in this country. The brunette, hailed originally from the southern latitudes, and in the United States she has a distinct advantage over her fair-haired sister.

"The only thing that the blue-eyed baby-doll can do is wear glasses," Dr. Paul continued. "She can wear smoked glasses or a special glass invented by Sir William Crookes, inventor of the X-ray."

"But can you imagine a blue-eyed flapper trying to practice her wiles through smoked glasses?" Dr. Paul asked. "Scientists recommend a daily half dozen to aid blondes. They are: Roll your eyes. Look up from your work frequently. Give your eyes plenty of fresh air. Look at green grass, flowers and the blue sky. Sit up straight. Bathe the eyes in cold water when tired."

HEAD TAX URGED FOR AGE PENSIONS

CHICAGO, July 11.—A head tax of $2 a year would provide old age insurance for every individual in the United States, declares D. P. Markey, supreme commander of the Macabees, in an address here to the final meeting of the conference of fraternal societies on old age pensions.

"England is paying a tax of $3 a year for old age pensions," he said, "but that is excessive. The fraternal societies in this country have worked out figures so that home life, private rooms, medical care and a comfortable scale of living can be provided for the full proportion of dependent aged persons in their membership for a tax inside of $2 a year."

Yesterday the rat lost its balance and fell about 50 feet which resulted in the death of another high wire king.

Wife Says He Whirled Her in Air by Ankles

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 11.—Calling her husband a cave man who entertained himself by swinging her around in circles while holding her by the ankles, Mrs. Emma Rosenstein has started a suit for separate maintenance. Her last Christmas present was a blackened eye and a choking, she says.

Beside having her head bumped by the furniture when he whirled her around by the ankles, Mrs. Rosenstein alleges her husband proved himself a regular cave man in many other ways. As an instance, she says, he threw her out of bed and blackened her eyes all over again.

The bandits escaped to an automobile waiting a block away in charge of a third member and dashed out of town.

Everett Ferguson, president, and his wife, cashier of the bank, gave the alarm from the vault where they were locked by the bandits.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Chemists of the health department are analyzing a type of cigarette that has recently been sold by candy store dealers to grammar school girls.

Discovery of the development of this new potential danger to school youngsters was made by Henry D. Hatch, principal of the Thorpe school. Several days ago Hatch found three 13-year-old girls puffing away on the school steps. He seized their cigarettes and summoned Police-woman Marian Witkeman, who made an investigation.

The policeman found candy stores in the neighborhood selling the stimulant cigarettes, branded as "Smoke-us" at two for a cent. Children, especially little girls, had been the most frequent purchasers.

CHICAGO, July 11.—A head tax of $2 a year would provide old age insurance for every individual in the United States, declares D. P. Markey, supreme commander of the Macabees, in an address here to the final meeting of the conference of fraternal societies on old age pensions.

"England is paying a tax of $3 a year for old age pensions," he said, "but that is excessive. The fraternal societies in this country have worked out figures so that home life, private rooms, medical care and a comfortable scale of living can be provided for the full proportion of dependent aged persons in their membership for a tax inside of $2 a year."

CHICAGO, July 11.—The tight wire performing rat of this place, which has been entertaining visitors and employees at a local grain elevator here, met its fate. Today there is a shadow of gloom cast over the employees of the establishment.

The rat has been giving daily open air performances by walking from the elevator upon an electric light wire across to a large warehouse about 150 feet away.

Yesterday the rat lost its balance and fell about 50 feet which resulted in the death of another high wire king.

BRITISH PRODUCE TERROR OF SKIES

New Plane Is a Steel-Nosed Air Ram.

LONDON, July 11.—An aerial battering-ram, that will swoop down like a hawk from the skies to prey upon slow-moving "troop planes" and transports, is being constructed secretly in England, according to newspaper reports.

Described as the most fearful air weapon conceived, the new plane is to be a heavily-armed, steel-nosed aircraft, a combination of airplane and jet-propelled rocket.

The pilot would rush down to destroy larger, slower aircraft transporting soldiers or munitions.

The new machine is designed for use with the air levitons that will act as mother planes to small battle flyers.

Its only weapon is to be a knife-like prow to disable its adversaries. It is a one-man affair.

The pilot will watch for enemy planes and when one has been sighted detach himself from the mother ship and drop at tremendous speed. When certain of hitting his target, he will move a lever that will cause the wings to fold back under cover of the prow. After the blow has been struck, it is intended that equilibrium shall be restored by means of a pecular rudder arrangement and a powerful engine that will operate previously-arranged air-screws. Then the wings are to be unfolded and the flight to the mother ship begun.

The air-ram would not usually strike at the body of an airplane, but the wings, hoping to disable it.

Air experts say that a weapon against it must be sought indirectly—that the mother plane must be disabled.

But the fact that these are planned to fly at tremendous heights, out of the danger of attack, complicates the problem and leaves the air-ram the prospective terror of the skies.

6 WOMEN, 5 MEN BLAST VICTIMS

Cartridge Plant Explodes at Alton, Ill.

ALTON, Ill., July 11.—Eleven persons, including six women, were killed and twenty were injured in an explosion late yesterday at the Western Cartridge company plant at East Alton, according to a revised check today.

The blast which partially wrecked the plant and rocked homes and broke windows miles away, is thought by officials to have been caused by ignition of powder by a friction spark from machinery in the salvage department.

All the dead and injured were employees and practically all worked in the salvage department where 50-50 cartridges purchased from the government were being emptied of powder so that the explosives and metals might be re-used.

The explosion came in a series of detonations that blew workers into the air, making identification in some cases necessary by elimination. Exploding cartridges shot in all directions, cutting down victims and mingling with roars from explosive containers on the salvaging machines.

Parts of walls fell out as if they were burst by tornado suction. Both public authorities and company officials are attempting to learn details of the explosion's cause. They are handicapped because those who were in the room when the first blast let go were instantly killed.

Home Laundry Asks Lower Water Rates

An investigation into the probability of lower water rate for the Home Laundry was ordered by Mayor Pink Logan this morning when Manager Lohman of the laundry appeared before the commission complaining of high rates.

Manager Lohman asserted that the laundry is a continual large user of city water, and that they pay approximately $175 per month for the water drawn by them. In view of this, he said, and because it is necessary for them to treat the water before it is fit to use for laundry purposes, the company felt that they should have a smaller rate.

It was brought out during the discussion that the laundry is probably the largest water user in Port Arthur, drawing approximately 160,000 gallons per month. Manager Lohman said he believed they were entitled to better rates than they now receive. Mayor Logan instructed J. O. Herpin to make an investigation into the matter at once, the council to be governed by his report.

Searchlights to Guide U. S. Air Mail Pilots

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., July 11.—Thirty-seven searchlights to be installed along the "after-dark" section of the trans-continental airplane mail route, to be established by the post-office department this summer, have just been shipped by the General Electric company from its plant here to various places between Chicago and Cheyenne, Wyo. Each one of the lights has a rated illumination intensity of 5,000,000 candlepower.

These searchlights will constitute the beacon posts of the night by which the postal airplane pilots will be guided over the entire 800 miles of the night air route. At each town where the lights are to be placed an emergency landing field will be located, scientifically illuminated, to be used by the pilots if a landing is necessary.

Each light will be mounted on a steel tower 54 feet high, and will be operated automatically by electric motors. The beams from these lights will illuminate an aerial path across Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska to the southeast corner of Wyoming.

BLIND, CAN SEE, DEAF, CAN HEAR

Wisconsin Girl Has 'Eyes' in Fingertips

JANESVILLE, Wis., July 11.—In trials extending over a period of two years, Willetta Huggins, blind and deaf inmate of the Wisconsin School for the Blind here, has convinced scores of scientists that she can "hear" through her finger tips and "see" by her sense of touch and smell.

She has repeatedly identified, while heavily blindfolded, the color of yarns, neckties and dresses. She has understood long conversations through the vibrations which have been transmitted along a telephone pole. She has proved herself perfect in reading newspaper headlines with her finger tips.

At a recent convention of the American Association of Workers for the Blind, the 15-year-old girl convinced the 700 delegates that she does hear and see although blind and deaf. Wearing goggles stuffed with cotton, Willetta failed only twice in a long series of demonstrations to identify the color of yarns. Upon each occasion she corrected herself.

Given the picture of a nude baby to identify and asked how many were in the picture Willetta said: "One, and I would like to be dressed like that on such a hot night." She was 100 per cent accurate in determining the denominations of American currency and traveler's checks.

Development of a new means of communication in which makes Willetta's case so interesting, said Dr. Thomas Williams, specialist of Evanston, Ill. "After spending 75 hours in the hospital with her, we have just begun to realize her value as a scientific subject."

Willetta's sense of touch is so delicate that there are no instruments which can measure it. Dr. Williams told the delegates at the convention. The Evanston specialist declared that he was firmly convinced that she is both blind and deaf. He believes that her case is without parallel in medical history.

GERMANY PUTS CLAMP DOWN ON LIQUORS

BERLIN, July 11.—Germany's 4th of July has officially been set for August 11.

After several years of discussion, the matter has finally been decided by the justice committee of the Reichstag and August 11—the anniversary of the adoption of the Weimar republic constitution which made Germany a republic in fact—has been legally named as a national holiday.

Last August 11, the third anniversary of the birth of the republic, was only half-heartedly observed in Germany, practically all business going on as usual, though a very formal and pompous meeting attended by President Ebert and Chancellor Wirth was held in the Reichstag.

Both committee members of the right parties voted against setting aside this day.

Germany will also have an official national memorial day for soldiers who died in the World War, the committee setting aside the 6th Sunday before Easter for the purpose.

THE BIRD KEPT WARM

CARSHALTON, England, July 11.—A local town, unable to endure the icy English summer in its usual bungalow, has built its nest in a gas street-lamp in order to keep warm at night.

Hesper Sails

A last minute delay prevented the schooner Hesper from sailing from Port Arthur for Boston with a cargo of lumber yesterday. The schooner passed out today.

U. S. S. Brazos to Beaumont

Orders sending the U. S. naval tanker Brazos to Beaumont reached the vessel as she neared Port Arthur Tuesday. It was reported that the Brazos would dock at the Texas Company Tuesday, but instead the ship continued up the canal to Beaumont.

Leads Off for Fiume

With repairs completed, the German tanker Gustav Schindler sailed late Tuesday from Port Arthur for Fiume, Italy, with a cargo of oil lifted at the Texas Company's terminals. After loading was completed, the German tanker remained in port for minor repairs.

IDEAL ROADWAY IS NEARING COMPLETION

DETROIT, Mich., July 11.—The ideal section, now being completed on the Lincoln Highway in Lake county, Indiana, is justifying all our hopes and efforts in its planning and construction," said A. P. Bennett, vice-president and secretary of the Lincoln Highway association upon his return from the site.

"That section is the finest and most beautiful piece of road on the Lincoln Highway between New York and San Francisco," said Bennett, "is a revelation as to what can be accomplished at moderate expense by careful planning, expert advice and a consideration of all of the manifold elements which enter into the proper designing of a modern main artery highway."

Elaborate plans are under consideration by the association for the formal opening of the ideal section as soon as the last touches have been added. Highway engineers from every section of the country will be invited to inspect the finished work.

Did He Kill?

Authorities at Springfield, Ill., are confronted by a mysterious murder. They say Ivan Wooten, 16, confessed to slaying his rich benefactor and foster mother, Mrs. Mary Seals, 70, who lived near the city. At first his story was that a tramp had shot her. She wouldn't let him leave home to earn a living, he said, giving that as his reason in the alleged confession. He formerly was an inmate of the Edgar county, Illinois, School for Boys.

This motor will develop 8,000 H. P. with a speed of 240 revolutions per minute. It will be used to drive a large "blowing" mill at the River Rouge plant, where installations are now being made to manufacture steel.

O HENRY GEMS—THE SUNDAY EXCURSIONIST

Somebody—who he is doesn't make any difference—has said something like the following: "There is something grand in the idea of the common people, but there is no sadder sight on earth than that of a Philistine enjoying himself."

If a man would realize the truth of this, let him go on a Sunday excursion.

The male Sunday excursionist enjoys himself, as the darkeys say, "awhine and a coonin'." No other being on earth can hold quite so much laughing and cooing. The week-end sight on earth than that of a Philistine enjoying himself.

Six days the Sunday excursionist labor and does his work but he does his best to refute the opponents of the theory of the late Charles Darwin.

He occupies all the "meant seats" in the car with his "spices," and lets his accented nature spray over the rest of the passengers. He is so infernally happy that he wants everybody to the brakeman on the rear car, to know it. He is so devilish agreeable, so perniciously jolly and so abominably entertaining that people who were born with or have acquired brains love him most vindictively.

People who become enamored of the Sunday excursionist are apt to grow insanely jealous, and have been known to rise up and murder him when a stranger enters the car and he proceeds to repeat his funny remarks for the benefit of a fresh audience.

The female Sunday excursionist generally accompanies him. She brings her laugh with her, and does a turn in the pauses of his low comedy work. She never by any accident misplaces her laugh or allows it to get out of curl. It ripples naturally and conforms readily to the size of the car. She puts on the male Sunday excursionist's hat, and he puts on hers, and if the other passengers are feeling worse than usual, they sing, "The Swanee River." There is enough wit and sorrow in the world without augmenting it in this way.

Men have braved the deepest troubles and emerged unscathed from the heaviest afflictions have gone down before the fatal hilarity of the Sunday excursionist.

There is no escape from his effects.

WHERE PROSPERITY ABIDES

American bankers are arranging for loans of more than $400,000,000 in various South American countries. American banks are establishing branch banks in many South American countries. American manufacturers are establishing branch houses in many South American countries.

There are more than 60,000,000 of Latin Americans. There are no peons. They are not half civilized. They are not underfed. They are buyers of goods. They are producers of wealth. They are builders of empires. They are coming fast. They are not staggering under a load of war debts. They are neither poverty-stricken or saturated with age-old prejudices.

They are the neighbors of the United States. They are friendly to the people of the United States. Some day the trade of the Latin Americans will be worth more to the American people than the trade of the Orient or the trade of Europe. This is the way it is written in the book of destiny.

HE PLAYED AND LOST

There may be money in oil but not for the depositors of the American State Bank of Wichita, Kansas. Philip A. Drumm was the cashier of the bank. He was a man of conscience and courtesy. He had the confidence of all. Now he is enjoying his liberty on a bond of $15,000. He has a shortage of nearly $1,500,000. He made loans. He loaned to individuals, oil companies and oil corporations.

When he needed the money they failed to meet their obligations. Considerable sums were loaned to operators in the fields of northern Oklahoma. The borrowers failed to make good. As for Drumm his mental anguish is pathetic. He says he carried it for three years. There were moments when he thought that his brain would snap. Now the pressure on his brain has been lifted and the load has been transferred to the stockholders and depositors of the bank. As for Drumm he is broke, ready to take his punishment and drop out of sight.

There may be money in oil but this Kansas banker played and he lost. If he had played and won there would have been a different story to tell. He would have been a Napoleon of finance, a self-made man and the newspapers and magazines would have carried stories telling how he began at the first rung of the ladder and shot to the topmost rung without the batting of an eye.

WHY?

California as a producer of crude petroleum is far in the oil producing states of America. There has been a steady increase in production and this is given as a reason why there has been a cut of 25 cents in the price of crude the country over.

Mexico is a heavy producer of crude and new wells are said to be coming in all the time. American nationals control 75 per cent of the output of the Mexican wells. Mexican crude is on the free list, notwithstanding the republican party controls the government and it is the party of high tariffs.

Three great oil companies had more influence with the republican administration than the 18,000 independent producers in the petroleum states of America. Free trade democrats placed Mexican crude on the free list; high tariff republicans kept Mexican crude on the free list. Why?

SOUTH CAROLINA

For the first time in a century there are more whites than blacks in the state of South Carolina. There are 46 counties in the state. A survey has been made and this survey shows 50,000 negroes have left 41 counties since November 1 with a consequent abandonment of thousands of farms and crops. Figures for the other five counties have not been completed. These negroes have settled in northern industrial centers. They deserted the country districts of the palmetto state. South Carolina has been hit hard by the ravages of the boll weevil. Last year the state did not produce sufficient cotton to meet the demands of the local textile mills. Should the exodus of the blacks continue where are the planters of South Carolina going to get their labor supply?

TOO MANY PIGS

William Jennings Bryan is fond of saying that because the farmers of the country failed to sell their products that the price of production there is ever an exodus from the country to the city and an under production of the products which sustain human life. He is reminded that a surplus of 5,000,000 hogs and a large surplus of beef on farms throughout the country have prompted the government, the railroads and the livestock and meat boards to co-operate in starting an "eat meat for health" week. A foreign market for American pork would help some. American farmers have wheat and pork for sale.

AMERICA

Six million dollars has been raised in the past two years by Jewish organizations in the United States for the rebuilding of Palestine. What will they do with Palestine after they have rebuilt it? American Jews contributed eighty per cent of the sum raised. American Jews are not going to Palestine. They prefer America to any other country, and why shouldn't they? This is the richest and the freest and most prosperous of all nations. This is shown by the millions of aliens who are crazy to get in but are shut out by the immigration law. The Irish Free State has been functioning for two years. There has been no wild rush of Irish or the descendants of Irish from these shores. They know.

Chicago women shoot to kill. Within two years thirty-two fair ones put their husbands in the cemetery via the pistol route and not a conviction followed. Husbands must be cheap in Chicago.

New York bricklayers won their strike. Contractors agreed to pay $12 a day for two years and provide continuous employment for the bricklayers. Why the white collar or a teacher's certificate?

Eninent financiers say the storm in Wall Street is over. Of course they have in mind the storm that wrecked the crooked broker firms and their crooked operators. A Texan, Job H. Banton, created the storm. He is a people's prosecutor and crooks do not look good to him.

During the first six months in 1923 a survey shows 77,500 negroes have deserted Georgia and for the same period 29,513 white people have deserted the farms of Georgia. Estimating 30 acres to the plough there are 55,524 ploughs in the country. Labor shortage on the farm on June 15 was placed at 70,743. Now where is Georgia going to get its supply of farm workers?

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRES-COTT TO SYDNEY CARTON

From now on, my dear Syd, I am going to conduct all my business with you through the mail. I can't understand why you shy at coming over here. You answer my letters with celerity and dispatch. Are you afraid of me or are you afraid of Leslie? I just cannot understand why you do not come to see us.

Speaking of being afraid, I'm afraid of something that happened recently where the goddess of luck played the cards out to me.

I wonder if you ever met Harry Ellington's wife. She is a very decent sort of a girl and was one of the gayest and brightest young women in town before Harry married her.

For some reason she has completely changed since she married Harry. She has settled down as many girls do into a perfect little home body, while Harry has seemed to be more of a wanderer than before.

I really felt very sorry for her and the other day I insisted that Harry should bring her to our apartment to dinner. Leslie took to her immediately, just why I do not know, for she has changed greatly since her marriage. She is perfectly colorless now as far as I can see. Leslie, however, seemed to see something in her that was there before her marriage.

The girls made an engagement with each other to go shopping the next day. Neither Harry nor I knew of this.

After they had fussed around town most of the day, they went into Martelle's for tea. Now there is where I come in.

Just after luncheon Harry called me up and said, "Oh man, I am lunching with Edith Chapman and I am sure you would like to know her. We're going in the country for a drive and expect to pick up a friend of hers, Miss Dazell. If you'd like to make it a four-some for tea at Martelle's, let me know."

I was very much put out that business kept me from going on this party. To tell you the truth, Syd, I forgot all about Leslie and it seemed perfectly all right to lunch with any woman in a public and thoroughly respectable place like Martelle's, but—

I had reason to give obligations to my goddess of luck that evening when Leslie came home and told me that she and Mrs. Ellington had gone to Martelle's for tea.

While they were there, Walter Burke joined them and later who should come in, of course, but Harry and Miss Chapman? They hadn't taken up Miss Dazell because I could not make one of the party.

I felt myself getting hot all over as Leslie told me this, for you see I didn't know "how she" would take it, especially as I had found a little fault with her and Mrs. Ellington for allowing Walter Burke to join them.

I wonder if I will ever remember that a married man has the same responsibility in keeping himself out of the mouths of the gossips that his wife has? As it is, tonight I am promising myself that in the future I shall be a very good little boy. It is a model young man that is writing you this letter, old chap.

In the meantime I am trying to think of just how I shall break up the friendship between Ruth Ellington and Leslie. There is something inexplicable behind those eyes of Ruth's. She knows too much about our sex. I would not like Leslie to be as self contained or as sophisticated as she seems to be.

Haven't had a word from Paula Perrier for ages. I guess that book is closed.

JACK.

TOMORROW—Syd's reply—A rebuke and a threat.

CONVULS PROGRAM

An advance notice says: A treat is in store for you if you drop into the Peoples theater during the week, for Rex Ingram has made a wonderful picture again, "Where the Pavement Ends," an oasis in the moving picture desert. It breathes of the wholesomeness and freshness of the outdoors.

Ramon Navarro is charming as the handsome, single-hearted native, Alice Terry exceeds herself in any of her previous successes. "Where the Pavement Ends" is such a story as one rarely sees in pictures. There are no false heroes, no agonizing.

This production will show throughout Saturday at the Peoples.

ELEPHANT IS CLEVER ACTOR

An advance notice says: The first elephant to win fame in the world is "Oscar." He was borrowed from the zoo for quite an important part in "The M. U. C. 'Soul of the Beast.'" He proved an adept at "hogging" the camera. From the first the elephant revealed in the battery of lights turned on him, and the applause from onlooking actors and actresses of note. He even improvised.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 11.—When the new rules of the police department requiring gymnastics of the officers got around to the point where the popular desk sergeant, W. L. DALLAS, Texas, July 11.—Motion picture industry setting of a date for the trial of Special Deputy Sheriff Hilliard Britte, accused of slaying George Sanders and indicted on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting in Garland last December was denied by Judge Felix D. Robertson.

W. W. Nelms and P. C. Short, attorneys for the widow of Sanders and special prosecutors, filed the motion, charging the district attorney's office with failure to prosecute Britte, and requested that District Attorney Shelby Cox be disqualified from participation in the trial.

Madie's Smartness Is Judged By Selection Of Colors and Late Styles

ANGING fashions do funny things. Some physicians claim that an ill person sometimes grows a little "worse" just as the weather gets better. It is the same way with fashions. There is a turning point, when fashions, changing from one extreme to another, grow decidedly "worse." And it seems that this is the case at present. The change from the long graceful skirt to the short skirt, which now being attempted by fashion designers, is leaving a vacancy in a quandary. Like Gaul, Port Arthur is divided into three parts, as far as dress and styles are concerned. One is the styles, which are the best dressed women; one is the styles, which are the smart and enter to neither; and finally, there is the odd lot of these two, which are worn by "flappers."

Many young women and girls are clinging to the flat heels which were a year ago with the knee-length skirts. Long skirts simply do not give the ankle and instep graceful. If one must wear flat heels, must turn up one's hems.

For selection is just as necessary as smartness as style.

One has eyes of no particular color, but of no decided shade. A colorless complexion one must add upon colorful clothes to bring out their personalities. Let the color on wear the drab shades. Colorful persons are usually prettier in shades than in vivid ones. The ash-blond, for instance, is always in a pale green, shell pink or

The summer mode for evening wear is striking in its simplicity. Eight out of every ten dance and evening dresses are of chiffon, organdie, crepe, and diaphanous materials made over metal cloth or silk slips, plain above the hips and swinging in circular folds or trailing side drapes below. Sheer lace frills and beaded fringes are the other two of the ten styles.

Girl Sherlock Holmes Traps Suspected Thief

NEW YORK, July 11.—Two years ago Miss Florence Hughes, an interior decorator, lost two rings valued at $1,250.

She said Richard P. Fenwick, an engineer, had offered to have the stones in them reset and she let him have them for that purpose. He never returned.

Ever since then, Miss Hughes has scanned the faces of men in the street, looking for the missing man. Then she passed him in the street and trailed him to his home. Then she told police, who arrested him.

RIOT SQUAD SENT AFTER THIEF

PITTSBURGH, July 11.—An automobile filled with county detectives, a squad of patrolmen and two additional police wagons filled with reserves armed with riot guns and sticks were dispatched to quell a supposed riot in Sahara street.

Arriving on the scene the riot squad found a crowd estimated at 500 men gathered in S. Main street, led by Philip Selzer, the owner of a dry goods store at 2412 Carson street, in search of a negro, who stole a shirt from the store. The negro escaped.

STATE MILLIONS GO TO HELP FARMERS

NEW YORK, July 11.—New York state will play fairy godmother to its farmers this year, under a plan new to the east, which involves the depositing of approximately $10,000,000, representing the state's third funds, with banks in agricultural communities. State Treasurer George K. Shuler announced here.

This drastic change in the method of handling state money, which formerly, according to Mr. Shuler, has been "recklessly without regard to any possible benefit to the state beyond the securing of adequate interest and prompt protection," is approved by the federal reserve board. Governor Smith, the state bureau of farms and markets bankers all over the state.

Places Suicide Blame On Girls He Knew

NEW YORK, July 11.—Norman J. Gilford, 22 years old, who had been boarding at the home of Mrs. George Fagan, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

Gilford left the following note, addressed to his sister, Mrs. Helen Abrams: "Dear Sis: I have been a fool and wasted my money on girls in Philly, and I guess this is so long for ever Brother Joe."

War Wounds Make Artist Prize Winner

NEW YORK, July 11.—It was the war that really gave Francis Scott Bradford, winner of the Prix de Rome, a chance to find that he was meant to be a painter and not a lawyer. If he had not been so badly wounded in the war as to make necessary additional medical treatment in a hospital at Des Moines after the armistice, he might have followed in the footsteps of his father, an attorney in Appleton, Wis.

At his studio, Mr. Bradford, a tall sturdy young man with ready grin, said his family had never deplored his change from the law to art.

TWO SHOT IN WEEK AT CHURCH FAIR

YONKERS, N. Y., July 11.—Frank Taylor, from whom a bullet was extracted, is the second Yonkers youth who went to church and got shot within a week.

Taylor was wounded in the left arm and side with a rifle bullet while at practice at a target range at a fair in the basement of Day-spring Presbyterian church, Yonkers. A week before, Charles Minnow was shot in the right leg by a poor marksman at the same church fair. Both will recover.

NURSES RESENT CLOTHES ORDER

And Vets Think Miss Robertson Is Going Too Far

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 11.—Miss Alice Robertson, former congressional nurse, is finding life as a welfare worker at the soldiers' memorial hospital here anything but a bed of roses, hospital attaches declared today.

The soldiers were nursing a smouldering animosity toward the former congressional nurse who is alleged to have voted against the bonus measure. But their opposition flared openly with her recent ultimatum to the nurses to get under cover, more work and less civility.

Short skirts, townecked dresses, bobbed hair and the jinking of the corset fell under Miss Alice's ban.

"It's bad enough to be upbraided by a grizzled corporal who was gassed in the Argonne, declared, 'without having to face the return of the ground-sweeping dresses and maybe the bustle.'"

"Our dresses are all right. They are made for comfort and attractive," the nurses contend. "Miss Alice is no longer young but she would probably enter to style if she were our age," a bold-haired stenographer added.

For Miss Alice only smiles. She said the men at the hospital "are boys." They are not bad, only as boys, she asserted, "and I am going to continue to watch over them."

CUSSING MAKES PARROT HUMAN

'Pure' Bird Returns Home a 'Profane' Fowl

CHICAGO, July 11.—When is a parrot not a parrot? Why, when he teaches himself to swear. Then he's an individual with human traits.

This momentous decision was handed down by Justice of the Peace H. G. Williams of Evanston, after he had fined Ferdinand Kutz of Niles Center $5 and costs for killing an alleged profane parrot.

The bird flew away on June 6 from the home of Mrs. Bertha Fluegge of Morton Grove.

She said it "was the purest and most charming thing I ever saw."

When she noticed her bird had killed the bird because it persisted in swearing like a sailor and embarrassing his neighbors, Mrs. Fluegge identified her pet at a veterinarian's.

"Mr. Fluegge says he never taught his bird to swear at any time," the judge said. "Therefore, it must have learned by itself. When a parrot can do that, it's no longer a pet; it's an individual with human rights. No one has a right to shoot an individual, so I must fine Kutz for killing the bird without a license."

SWIMMIN' HOLE BETTER 'N TANK

'Ole Pool' Emerges Victorious in Argument

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The "ol' swimming hole" emerged victorious in a worthy argument with the modern indoor tank.

P. Marshall Taylor, Jacksonville physician, acted as referee, reading an impartial outline of the swimming situation and the placid outdoor "hole," where granddaddy was wont to dash, won hands down.

"Organisms in modern swimming pools have placed a different problem before the public than formerly obtained in the days of the 'ole swimming hole,' immortalized by James Whitcomb Riley," Dr. Taylor said. "The article was one of the first to be read in the opening of the scientific sections of the American Medical association, in session here, and said in part:

"Swimming pools that aren't properly sterilized are a constant source of skin, ear and nose afflictions. Practically the only way for the individual to prevent diseases when he is uncertain of the cleanliness of the tank is for him to put cotton in the ears and in the nose of high divers, in the nose.

"The protective mechanism of the nose against infection is definitely impaired by the destructive action of the water. The problems incident to swimming and diving demand the attention of physicians and public health officials if infection is to be prevented."

SCHOOL BOYS REPLACE CITY STREET CLEANERS

PITTSBURGH, July 11.—High school students clad in the regulation costume of the "Whitewing" for eight hours replaced the striking street cleaners of Crafon. The sudden spurt of energy of the boys resulted from an advertisement for cleaners inserted in the newspapers by Otto Campbell, street commissioner. Crafon street cleaners recently went on strike for increased wages.

While puzzled residents of the borough looked on, the understudies of the whitewing members, busily wielding their brushes, brooms and shovels as though street cleaning was their regular profession. Many of them said they would continue to do the work through the summer vacation, if necessary.

GERMANY'S JULY 4 WILL BE AUGUST 11

BERLIN, July 11.—Berlin is undergoing a process of voluntary prohibition.

If the present decrease in alcoholic consumption continues proportionately, Berlin will consume practically nothing within a very few years.

The consumption of hard liquor last year was only about half that of 1913—the last pre-war year. The per capita consumption now is about one-sixth as much as it was 20 years ago.

MAN LIKE SPHINX; SHE ASKS DECREE

NEW YORK, July 11.—Calling her husband a "perfect Sphinx," and asserting there is "another woman," Mrs. Barbara Morrison, Irvington, N. J., has started divorce proceedings against George A. Morrison.

Mrs. Morrison says it was impossible to live with a man who played the part of a deaf mute when things failed to go as he wished. She says she stopped talking to her shortly after their marriage in June, 1910.

France Has Gigantic Plan to Bring Her Dusky Army Recruits in at the Back Door in Case of New War

PARIS, July 11.—Construction of a great military railroad across the Sahara, something like the Arizona Desert, only about 50 times as wide, is now being studied by experts of the French war office and a project calling for the expenditure of several hundred million dollars will shortly be laid before the chamber of deputies.

The importance of the railroad, apart from its commercial advantages, lies in the fact that south of the Sahara is the French Congo, inhabited by many millions of dusky sons of the jungle, from which the colonial contingent of the French army is for the most part recruited. At present it takes about two months to bring the annual recruits to France for training. With the projected line the time would be reduced to about a week.

After long discussions the consensus of military opinion seems to have decided in favor of a line running straight down from Colon Bechar, in Algeria, to the head of the River Niger, east of Timbuctoo. This decision was arrived at in order to avoid the disadvantage of a railroad running close to Spanish territory on the west coast of Africa, or one bordering Italian territory in Tripoli. France wants a railroad all to herself, running entirely through French owned or controlled territory.

Airplanes and Caterpillars. Surveys made by Gen. Estienne and more recent by engineers who accompanied the "caterpillar" automobile expedition across the desert will be utilized. Gen. Estienne is about to undertake another expedition in the district of Kamada, in the Hoggar region, where coal mines have just been discovered. To see whether it would be worth while to have the line pass through that part of the Sahara. He will utilize airplanes as well as "caterpillar" cars in his investigations.

A direct line across the Sahara would be about two thousand miles long. In case certain regions which give fair promise of commercial advantages are taken in the road would be five hundred miles or so longer.

The River Niger would be crossed at Tassaye 150 miles east of Timbuctoo, and the southern terminus of the road is to be at Wazirgum, the center of the fertile region inhabited by seven million people. It is hoped to be able to develop these black men into valuable assets in commercial undertakings as well as man power in case of a new war.

Just as Bismarck and the military leaders of the German empire forced the engineers engaged on railroad schemes to subordinate business to strategy, the prime movers in this scheme for a Sahara railroad are looking chiefly to its productivity as a means of replenishing the ranks of the army. It will have commercial advantages too, but they are secondary.

Students Search For Reported Peeping Tom

GENEVA, N. Y., July 11.—Robert college students, the male annex of William Smith college, have moved to back up the feminine institution in the war upon "Peeping Toms" which Dean Barbara Walker proposed to lead with a shotgun.

Hobart's undergraduates will at once form a vigilance committee to co-operate with Dean Walker's shotgun brigade, pledging themselves to assist her in her law enforcement campaign without recourse to the city's police and city courts.

Decision of the collegians to take the law in their own hands, results from the leniency extended the first "Peeping Tom" to fall into the authorities' hands. The man escaped with a suspended sentence.

IOWA TAKES LEAD AS BEST BUTTER STATE

WATERLOO, Iowa, July 11.—If all the butter manufactured in Iowa last year was made up in pound tins, and placed end to end the butter line would extend 11,758 miles, or, if the state consumed its entire output of butter, each of the 2,500,000 citizens would have eaten 49.55 pounds. This computation was given out by the Iowa Creameries' Secretaries' and Managers' association to illustrate the remarkable growth in Iowa of the dairy products industry. The 1922 total of butter production was 124,168,089 pounds, an increase over 1921 of 25,740,419 pounds.

Rickard Expects Record Crowd for Willard-Firpo Ring Bout

Firpo, Polished And Peppy Looks Better In Fighting Trunks

Willard Finishes Hard Training on Edge for Scrap Which May Carry Winner to Corner Opposite Champion Heavyweight

NEW YORK, July 11.—With all the ringside seats sold and practically an assurance that the cheaper tickets will be sold as fast as they are offered, Tex Rickard predicted today that the Willard-Firpo heavyweight battle in Jersey City tomorrow night would set a new attendance record for boxing.

The paid admission for the Dempsey-Carpentier spectacle ran over 75,000 and the total attendance was a little over 90,000. Rickard expects to have almost 100,000 in his pine arena tomorrow night to see the two giants of the ring battle. Receipts probably will surpass $600,000, which, in comparison with the $1,600,000 Dempsey-Carpentier gate, will not be poor, considering that the "top" for the battle between the Frenchman and the champion was $50, while the best seats for this international battle have been sold at $15.

Willard and Firpo finished hard training yesterday and they will do only enough today to keep themselves on edge.

Firpo looks ready and fit for the fight that some believe may lead him to the world's championship. He looks much better than he has done for any of his previous fights here. Practically all of the rough edges that were apparent in his work against Bill Brennan have been removed under the skilled hands of Jimmy DeForest. In his last big fight with Jack McAuliffe, he was a changed Firpo and one who had fought Bill Brennan and as he has worked up for the Willard bout he looks about 30 per cent better than he did against McAuliffe.

The South American seems much faster on his feet. He has learned much more about the use of his left hand and he seems to have developed the process of thinking. The results of his boxing with the speedy young McAuliffe are apparent in his work.

Firpo is one of the best business men in the ring and it does not make him feel bad to figure that his 20 per cent of the gate receipts may net him over $100,000.

His heart is the only doubtful factor and that is doubtful only because he has never been forced to submit to great punishment. In several of his early fights here he was on the floor and he came up fighting hard.

Hails Owen Carroll As Finished Leaguer

Jack Barry, former star shortstop of the Philadelphia Athletics, now coach at Holy Cross College, says that Pitcher Owen Carroll, crack twirler of that team, is a finished big league pitcher.

Carroll is the pitcher that most every big league has tried to sign. Those on the inside, however, say that the Detroit club of the American League has the young man's signed contract in the club safe.

"Carroll will make good beyond a question if he goes to the big show," says Barry. "He is the best looking pitcher I have seen in college ball in years. His pitch of stuff, including poise and courage."

The Holy Cross collegian would be a most acceptable addition to the Detroit staff at present, if able to win for the Tigers. Cobb's pitchers have looked poorly of late, this, in addition to the general inferior play of the entire club, rather removes Detroit from the position of leading contender for the title being at least.

WINS BOTH GAMES

BOSTON, July 11.—John Stuart, former Ohio State pitcher, hurled St. Louis to victory over Boston in both games of a double header today. The scores were 11 to 1 and 6 to 3.

PITCHERS' BATTLE

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—Ring and Donohue staged a fine pitchers' battle for nine innings and then in the 10th Cincinnati pummeled them all over the lot, winning from Philadelphia 7 to 2.

Rough hit a home run in the tenth with Bohne on base and this blow not only won the game but disheartened Ring so much that he went to pieces.

Cincinnati 000 110 000—7 12 1
Philadelphia 000 010 100—2 10 0

CHANGES HIS BAT STYLE; SUFFERS

Williams Has Factory Turn Out New Stick

Ball players are a peculiar lot. Last year Ken Williams of the St. Louis Browns hit 39 home runs, shattering Babe Ruth as the long distance swatter of the American League. Incidentally, Williams finished the season with an average well over .400.

Williams accomplished the feat of making 39 home runs, using a model bat that has suited him for years. During the winter, Williams, eager to top Babe Ruth's mark of 59 home runs, decided that a heavier bat might supply the necessary punch to create a new home-run record.

Instead of getting a season's supply of his regular model, Williams had the bat factory turn out something a little different. He had his bat made a trifle fatter at the point of contact and also had six ounces added to the weight of the bat.

Six ounces doesn't sound like much weight, but when you add it to a bat far heavier than that used by most players, it means considerable.

Instead of helping his batting as far as the making of home runs is concerned it has acted just the opposite.

The added weight has slowed up his swing. Williams is hitting more balls into left field than right, due to the fact that he is late getting his bat round. In most American League parks the right field fence is far shorter than the left. Late swinging, therefore, is a handicap, since it prevents Williams, who is a left-handed hitter, from pulling balls into the right field stands.

The Browns are all urging Williams to go back to his old-style model. They do say that some of the players have destroyed a number of the new sticks.

HELD TO 4 HITS

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—Urban Shocker held Washington to four hits and St. Louis defeated the Senators, 9 to 1. It was Shocker's thirteenth victory of the season. He is the first major league pitcher to win 13 games this year.

Score by innings:
Washington 000 100 000—1 4 2
St. Louis 200 412 003—9 13 0
Zahner and Ruel; Shocker and Severid.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Frankie Jerome, New York bantamweight, won a 15-round decision from Danny Edwards, colored, Pacific coast bantam.

SAYS HURLING ON A DECLINE

Former Star Twirler Sees 'Sorry Stuff'

"Pitching in the majors is a far easier job today than it was 10 to 15 years ago," remarks Bill Dinneen, former star twirler, now an American League umpire.

"In making such a statement I am taking into consideration the lively ball now in use. A great many fans believe the rabbit ball has made pitching more difficult. My observations are otherwise."

"With the lively ball, a pitcher with ordinary stuff who can mix it up with twice as much stuff."

"My main reason for believing that pitching today is easier than years ago is that nine out of every ten batters who step to the plate are at there to take their healthy swing. A majority of the batters are always swinging for extra bases."

"The percentage of good lead off men has dwindled greatly in the past 10 years. There are few batters who wait the pitcher out to the limit. Incidentally the players who mix up their batting style on the pitcher are greatly in the minority."

"Johnny Tobin of St. Louis and Jameson of Cleveland are two American League batters who give the pitchers much trouble. They look on over carefully, can take a healthy swing when they get the pitcher into the hole, hunt well, and drag the ball down the first base line in a most annoying manner for the pitcher and first sacker."

"In the old days there were plenty of batters of that style. Those kind of batters made pitching a tough job. It's different now as most of them are up there to take a swing."

"If I was a pitcher these days my big aim would be to get the ball over. Control is a greater asset than ever with the lively ball in use. Get the ball over, but keep it where the batter doesn't like it."

"The fellow with control can constantly keep the batter in the hole and that's the big thing in pitching."

HITS FEATURE TILT

SHREVEPORT, La., July 11.—In a game featured by heavy hitting and marred by constant wrangles between Umpire O'Hearn and players on both teams, Shreveport took the opening game of the Dallas series by a score of 8 to 7.

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, July 11.—With the veteran Pate pitching a winning game the Panthers overcame the series with Wichita Falls here by taking the second game by a score of 7 to 3. Fohl Through, Rumor Says; Sisler Probably Will Lead the Browns

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—Rumor has it that Lee Fohl is to be displaced as manager of the St. Louis Browns. It is a possibility that the change will be made before the close of the season. If Fohl is let out there is a chance that George Sisler may handle the Browns until the close of the season.

Sisler is drawing a big salary from the St. Louis club despite his inability to play. At various times Sisler has been suggested as manager. It is said the club plans to try him out in the managerial berth since his salary must be paid.

The owners probably care such a plan will enable them to get a line on Sisler's managerial ability.

Lee Fohl, who brought the Browns to within a game of an American League pennant last year, is a protégé of Business Manager Bob Quinn, who recently resigned. Quinn's passing has caused the Fohl rumor. Quinn is to take charge of the Boston Americans and it is possible Fohl will be selected as his manager for the Red Sox.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Right you are!" said a voice right at their elbow.

One day after a storm the sun came out.

And there appeared a beautiful rainbow.

It stretched from Over Yonder to Over There and was so plain it might have been a Chinese bridge or a jumping-rope suddenly turned stiff in the air.

"Isn't it wonderful?" cried Nancy. "Yes," nodded Nick. "And I'll bet you it's more wonderful even than it looks."

"Right you are!" said a voice right at their elbows, and looking they beheld a funny little goblin of a fellow dressed in a hundred colors. Or maybe it was a hundred and one colors. But anyway there were a good many. And he was bow-legged, and bow-armed and bowed all over, you might say, his tummy being as round as a soup bowl.

"The rainbow is the big door that opens into Rainbow Land and Rainbow Land is the best place on—"

on—I can't say on earth so I'll say on sky. Rainbow Land is the best place on sky," he said.

The Twins laughed, but they were still very curious.

"Do you live in Rainbow Land?" asked Nancy.

"Yes, I do," said the funny little fellow. "I'm a Rainbow Lander. My name's Mister Sky Bow and I like everybody and everybody likes me. I hope we shall be friends."

"Sure we shall," declared Nick. "You're a fairy, aren't you? Nancy and I have lots of fairy friends, but we can use some more. I always think friends are like candy, the more you have the more you want."

"Aren't you nice," said Mister Sky Bow with a broad smile. "Would you like to go back to Rainbow Land with me and make still more friends?"

"Oh, we'd love it!" cried Nancy.

LOUD SPEAKING CAR TO HELP ORATORS

NEW YORK, July 11.—A campaign Pullman car with built-in loud speaking features by means of which touring candidates can speak conversationally and make themselves heard by audiences of 10,000 or more, was one of the things that interested delegates of the National Electric Light association, who visited the Bell system research laboratories of the Western Electric company here recently.

The car is so fitted with electrical megaphones that presidential candidates and their leading orators will not have to wear out their voices in 1924, but may talk in low tones, or even whispers, from the last car of special trains and yet be distinctly heard.

TWO WOMEN SUCCEED AS PASTORS OF CHURCH

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 11.—South Dakota has two women pastors and both are making a success of their work in this field, heretofore monopolized by men.

One of them is Miss Fanny Mills, pastor of a church in the little mining town of Nemo, who has just been called to a larger church in Hurley. The other is Mrs. A. E. Deacon, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Manchester and formerly pastor of the church at Nemo.

MARKETS

WALL STREET FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, July 11.—Today was another dull day on the stock market with a reactionary tendency in prices. Some selling was reported from the interior influenced by the decline in wheat prices. While stocks gave ground there was no real selling pressure and the total transaction for the day was but little more than the extreme low of 255,000 shares on Tuesday which was the smallest volume of the year.

Consider the number of bearish developments, such as a renewed threat to organize the steel workers, pending demand for higher railroad wages and weakness in wheat, the street was impressed by the absence of real selling. From this it was deduced that the market had been fairly liquidated.

Not all developments were bearish, however. Weekly carloadings set a new high record, foreign exchanges were higher and some buying orders were put in on higher railroad wages.

The market closed higher. Closing prices: Steel 52, off 1/2; Republic 52, off 1/2; Baldwin 51, off 1/2; California Petroleum 50, off 1/2; Pan-American Petroleum 50, off 1/2; Studeraker 100, off 1/2; General Motors 12, off 1/2; Texas Company 42, unchanged; Consolidated Gas 16, up 1/2; International Harvester 22, off 1/2; Baltimore and Ohio 42, off 1/2; Southern Pacific 85, off 1/2; Atchafalpa 58, off 1/2; Reading 71, up 1/2; New York Central 92, off 1/2; Virginia and Carolina 71, 71; Opening prices on the New York Stock Exchange were lower with trading more active.

Changes were largely fractional. There were half point declines in initial trading in steel, cotton and American Can. Overhead developments were largely favorable, including the report of car loadings in the last week of June, something in the quarterly reports and an increase in dividends by a motor company.

A cut of ten cents in Corn Cakes should really have been part of other reductions in Eastern Cereals made Tuesday.

While nothing official developed that in any way could be termed as cheering the reparations market, it was noteworthy that all foreign exchanges were higher, Sterling being up 15-16.

AMBITIOUS DESIRES: WRECK BANKER'S LIFE: DETROIT, July 11.—The desire to have a fine home, as fine as those at the millionaires' colony in Grosse Pointe Park, is the reason neighbors advanced for the defalcation of $25,000 from the Grosse Pointe Savings bank by Charles D. Ramsey, vice president, and Albert Earl Kerby, cashier.

Kerby has confessed to having misappropriated $10,000. Ramsey walked into the county jail and told of embezzling $15,000.

Both had worked independently, but each knew the other's secret—and kept silent.

Combs, vice president of the company, has been named as the architect for the project. After H. Ayers has been named as the architect for the new hotel.

According to Combs, the hotel will be three stories and contain 200 rooms. It will be of hollow tile and concrete construction and the central unit of the group plan which will be added to as demanded. A hunting preserve of approximately 2000 acres for the exclusive use of the hotel's guests will be an additional feature of the hotel. Golf links, swimming pool, polo grounds and tennis courts will be constructed of approximately 2000 acres. Construction of the building will begin within the next ninety days, according to Combs.

SONS MADE TO DIG GRAVE FOR MOTHER: BALTIMORE, Conn., July 11.—The funeral of Mrs. Adele Parent was held up while her four sons, helped by relatives and friends, dug a grave for her final resting place in a cemetery near Mount Vernon. Nearly a hundred persons waited while the excavation was made.

The regular grave digger by mistake dug a grave about 200 feet from the family plot, and owing to the intense heat refused to make another one. The sons took off their coats and started to dig the grave.

ELECT FOR NEW SCHOOL: GAINESVILLE, Texas, July 11.—Voters of the Black Jack community, in Northeast Cooke county, voted unanimously on the proposition to issue $1,500 in bonds for the purpose of building and furnishing a new school. Not one opposing ballot was cast.

GREEN BAY, Wis., July 12.—The question of what is cruelty to animals has been left to be decided by the populace of Green Bay and Brown county by police officials and the owners of an old race horse.

Locked in a barn is a mare, Maud, at one time noted as a trotter on eastern tracks, who in the opinion of the neighbors, is the victim of cruelty while according to her owners, Maud is the most cherished possession, treated as a member of the family, and nothing is too good for her.

Maud's story starts some 28 years ago. After emerging from the colt stage, in which she had given evidence of her high breeding, speedy legs and qualities of gameness, she was given an opportunity to perform on the track. This was at Albany, N. Y. There and on many other eastern tracks Maud was raced by her owner, Charles H. Hain, and in time the bay trotter became a performer of class.

Many years ago, when Maud's days on the track were over, Mr. Hain came to Green Bay. Maud continues to draw her daily ration of oats. She earned them, he said, by past performances.

According to neighbors, Maud has been locked in her stall for the past 15 years, and is never permitted to graze on pasture ground. One party claimed that he had been told that Maud was being punished for losing a race.

Hain told a newspaper man that "next to my wife comes Maud." To this statement the neighbors replied with questions such as: "Why doesn't Hain ever let Maud out to pasture if he thinks so much of her?" "Why is it that she is never taken out for air? Why is it that the barn is always tightly closed and locked?" Residents in the vicinity say that while Maud was out to pasture one day last summer, she was "sneaked back" into the barn the next day.

Neighbors are now planning to take Maud to the county fair, where she will be exhibited as a "cruelty case." The fair is being held at the fair grounds, and the public is invited to see the horse.
